BANDIT KILLED, SECOND WOUNDED IN GUN BATTLE

Detectives Fight Trio In Railroad Yards At
Mt. Vernon

BULLETS HIT TWO

Third Man Escaped; Trio
Had Attempted Hold-
Up In Columbus

Mt. Vernon, O., April 7.—One bandit was killed, another seriously wounded, and a third escaped early this morning, during a gun battle with railroad detectives and sheriff's deputies in the Pennsylvania railroad yards.

The men, according to Sheriff Stream of Knox county, had made an unsuccessful attempt to rob a restaurant at Columbus, and fled when the proprietor produced a pistol.

Railroad dispatchers saw the men board an empty freight car and reported seeing the robbers as the freight passed through Condit and Centerburg.

Attempted to Flee
When the train pulled into Mt. Vernon railroad detectives and sheriff's deputies searched the train, and discovered the men in an empty car.

The men attempted to flee and several shots were fired into the ground by the detectives and deputies. One of the men then fired upon the officers. In a return volley, a man thought to be Ward W. Johnson, 22, of Pittsfield, Warren County, Pennsylvania, was killed.

His companion who registered as Ed Ward, 19, Pittsfield, was shot in the hip.

A third man, thought to have been their companion, escaped.

Authorities at Mt. Vernon hospital reported that the man who registered as Ed Ward, has been identified as Ralph Richardson, 22, of Pittsfield, Pa.

Identified by Card
Three other men on the train are held in jail, but it is thought they were not train riders.

The identification of the slain man was made from an automobile registration card found in a pocket.

Columbus, April 7.—The three bandits apprehended at Mt. Vernon early today, attempted to hold up L. P. Carmon in his restaurant here last night, according to police, but were foiled when Carmon's wife phoned police as the men ordered her husband to hold up his hands.

The men fled toward the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, and were seen to board a freight train bound for Mt. Vernon.

MAN DROPS DEAD WHILE AT WORK

Alabama Joe Gunter Is Victim Of Heart
Attack Today

G. B. "Alabama Joe" Gunter, Newgarden st., dropped dead while at work in the machine shop of the Mullins Mfg. corporation this morning.

The cause of his death is believed to have been a sudden heart attack, but further examination of the body will be held this afternoon.

Gunter was operating a lathe when he suddenly fell over from the sudden attack which caused his death. All efforts at artificial respiration failed to revive him and he was dead when the doctor arrived.

He had been employed by the Mullins company as machinist. He came from Pittsburgh. Previous to living in Pittsburgh, he had been employed in Wheeling, W. Va.

He is listed in the shop records as having no dependents, or relatives, and arrangements for burial have not been made. The body is at the Stark funeral home.

Warner, Film Star,
Says Norman Trevor
Has Become Insane

Los Angeles, April 7.—Norman Trevor, veteran screen actor, will face a strange audience next Monday when he is arraigned before the lunacy commission.

When Trevor became involved in bad check charges his friend, H. B. Warner, the film star, swore out an insanity complaint against him.

Said to be destitute, Trevor is under the delusion that he has unlimited means, according to the complaint and has been making extravagant purchases and lavishing gifts upon friends.

The actor is alleged to have presented $145 worth of flowers to a woman who is a comparative stranger to him.

Chicago, April 7.—Another bomb, the 47th since the first of the year, exploded here today on the roof of a one-story nursery building. No one was injured by the bomb.

OHIOAN HELD AT BAY
CONTINUES CONQUEST

Injunctions cannot wither, difference cannot stale his love for Ruth Aikman, who does not love him and wants none of his attentions, Edward Fosse, the big "bee and honey" man of Marion, said today.

He sadly contemplated his rudely interrupted romance with Miss Aikman. For 15 years Fosse has tried to win Miss Aikman. He has written more than 1,000 love letters, many of which she says she has destroyed without reading.

He changed his attendance from the Lutheran to the Methodist church in order to be nearer her several years ago. He tried to show at church services how much he loved her until his letters of admission to the church were withdrawn, only to be reissued about a year ago. But still she spurns him.

In fact, Miss Aikman has been granted an injunction restraining him from "paying undue attention or annoying her."

Fosse is disappointed at Miss Aikman obtaining injunction but he is not disheartened.

The big bee and honey man stayed away from church yesterday to comply with the court order.

Saturday noon while she was at lunch, he went to the Marion State and Savings bank, where she is employed as a cashier, and drew out his savings.

ings. He did it, he said, so that he could not be arrested for contempt of court by staring at her.

Fosse expects to comply with the court order to the letter. He still believes that if he had an opportunity to talk to Miss Aikman he could persuade her to accept him.

ROAD PLANS HELD UP BY NO MONEY

Report State Plans For
Hatchery Next Year
At Guilford

Unless there is a sudden change in plans, it is reported likely that the state department of agriculture will erect a fish hatchery at Guilford State park in Hanover township next year.

Contracts are to be awarded by the state for the construction of a spillway and also closing of gaps at Guilford Park within the next 30 days.

A crew of men is now at work clearing all brush from the 600-odd acres that have been purchased by the state.

The location for the hatchery has not been definitely determined. It is likely, however, that it will be erected on a site on the west side of the park, and its completion will insure a large stock of fish for this new pleasure resort.

While the county commissioners look with favor upon the plan to have an improved highway extend through Guilford, which will tap this new park, there will be no work done on this project this season for the reason the county is unable to finance its share of the project.

This is due to the fact that the commissioners are just completing a three-year road improvement program and no financing will be available for new road construction until next year.

It is now proposed to surface the old state road or the former Lisbon-Canton road and while petitions have been filed with the commissioners for this improvement, no legislation will be passed this year for this improvement.

RAIN MAY RUIN EASTER CLOTHES

Cold Winds May Bring
Snow, Sleet or Rain
Sunday, Forecast

Columbus, April 7.—Easter clothes will be introduced to wind and weather direct from Northwestern Minnesota, when they're taken for the air in Ohio tomorrow, it was predicted here today by U. S. Weatherman Alexander.

The wind is expected not to be destructive, but the weather men may furnish rain, sleet and snow. Plenty of low hanging and menacing clouds are also expected to make the day anything but glad some for the owners of Easter frocks.

A temperature drop of 20 to 25 degrees is expected Saturday night, which will probably bring the mercury down to freezing.

CLEAR WEATHER ROUTS STORMS

Kansas City, Mo., April 7.—Clear, cold weather greeted the southwest today following the two days of storms which reached from Texas to Iowa and Nebraska.

Western Kansas lay under a blanket of snow, which put McPherson out of communication with the outside world for a time last night.

Thompson took serious exception to published reports that he would be a candidate at the August primaries for the Republican senatorial nomination to succeed the late U. S. Senator Frank B. Willis.

New York, April 7.—Mr. and Mrs. James Stillman were aboard the Olympic today, bound for Paris on their third honeymoon.

In the French capital they will meet their son "Bud" and his Canadian bride, to whom he was married last year at the Stillman estate in Grand Anse.

What was termed the "second Stillman honeymoon" occurred two years ago, following their reconciliation after a six years' court battle for a divorce.

350 Children Hunt Eggs In Annual Event

More than 350 children of all ages up to 12 participated today in the annual Easter egg hunt staged by the Memorial building activities director, Joe Kelley and Miss Doris Chandler.

The playground at the building and the land back of the public library were used for the hunt, instead of Centennial park due to the threat of a down-pour this morning.

Both boys and candy varicolored eggs were used, and they were hidden in every kind of place previous to the hunt.

With a mad rush the children dashed forth to find the objects of the hunt. The children were grouped in three divisions, according to age, but this did not diminish the speed of the hunters.

No casualties were reported, despite the scramble, unless they were Kelley and Miss Chandler, who worked themselves to a frazzle, hiding the eggs and then supervising the hunt.

Every child got at least one egg, a supply being held in reserve for those who did not find any.

Cantatas And Special Programs For Easter In Salem Churches

Easter, the climax of the Holy Week celebration, which commemorates the resurrection of Jesus Christ, "who came to seek and to save that which was lost," will be given special recognition in Salem churches Sunday.

The story of the resurrection will again be told in sermon and song, and the beautiful spring blossoms which grace the sacred edifices on this occasion will give evidence that all nature is rejoicing in newness of life on this day of days on the Christian calendar.

It is expected that large crowds will fill the churches on this day.

Cantatas and special programs have been prepared for the Sunday evening services in the Christian, Methodist, Friends, Presbyterian and First Baptist churches.

CHRISTIAN
The choir of the Christian church under the direction of J. William Filson, director, and Mrs. Ruth E.

Berry, organist, will present the Easter cantata, "Victory," at 7:30 p. m. Sunday. It includes these numbers: "Go to the Cross," with soprano solo by Marian Jones; chorus, "The Way of the Cross," duet, "The Wondrous Cross," Mrs. Ross Painter and Mrs. Cora Schwartz.

Chorus, "Lift Up Your Heads, O Ye Gates," chorus, "Golden Harps are Sounding," soprano solo, "Crown Him," Miss Phoebe Nichols; chorus, "Rise! Crowned with Light," Mrs. Henry Sheen, contralto, will sing at the morning services.

PRESBYTERIAN
"The Thorn Crowned King" is the cantata to be given by the choir of the Presbyterian church Sunday evening. It is composed of the opening chorus, "Let the Righteous be Glad," alto solo, "He Chose the Cross of Shame," Miss Ora Vincent; mens' chorus, "There Was no

SHORTAGE IN FUNDS
BUT NOT IN FRIENDS

Everybody in the borough of East Newark, N. J., knows Jimmy Degnan, gassed war veteran and tax collector.

So, when an audit of the books showed a shortage, and the audit must be wrong. Even if it is right, Jimmy's loyal friends are sure that he was just careless.

Besides, they are taking extraordinary measures to make up the deficit and their minds are all made up to re-elect Tax Collector Degnan in June.

Degnan, now 35, was a captain in a fighting infantry outfit. He brought home a case of gas, a touch of shellshock and a bad leg, regarding all of which he had little to say. His popularity does not rest on these infirmities.

Jimmy has a tiny real estate business for the support of Mrs. Jimmy and their three children. As a notary public he is entitled to collect a fee of 50 cents, but for more than 7,000 times he has acted he has never accepted a penny.

Jimmy resigned a week ago when the shortage was reported. His friends promptly retained a lawyer and the lawyer has put two accountants to work on an independent audit.

The American Legion post has voted to turn over its building fund, amounting to about $2,500 if he really is short. The ladies auxiliary of this post is arranging a card party to raise an additional sum.

"I never took a dime of that money," Jimmy says, "but I have spells off and on, when I'm kind of in a fog. It sure has got my goat."

All his friends believe him, which, after all, is everything a man can ask.

PICKREL GIVEN LIEUTENANT JOB

Dayton Democrat Named To Bloom's Post By Governor Today

Columbus, O., April 7.—Appointment by Gov. Vic Donahey of Attorney William G. Pickrel, Dayton, Democrat, as lieutenant governor of Ohio was announced today at the governor's office.

The appointment, it was stated, is effective April 16 when Lieut. Gov. Earl D. Bloom, Bowling Green, succeeds Attorney Cyrus Locher, Cleveland, both Democrats, as state director of commerce. Locher was recently chosen by the governor to succeed the late U. S. Senator Frank B. Willis in the United States senate.

Pickrel's appointment is for the term ending on the first Monday of next year. It was said, will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor at the August primaries.

Commenting upon the published report that the governor was expected to select Attorney Charles B. Zimmerman, Springfield, as lieutenant governor, intimate advisers of the governor declared today that they were informed Zimmerman stated he would not be a candidate for the lieutenant governor nomination. The governor, they said, did not offer the position to Zimmerman.

ASSERTS SMITH
COULD DEFEAT
HOOVER EASILY

But Lowden Could Defeat
Smith, Farm Bloc Head
Declares Today

HOOVER IS WEAK,
DICKINSON SAYS

Secretary Should Not Be Republican Nominee,
Iowan Declares

Washington, April 7.—Herbert Hoover's political opponents opened up a new line of attack upon his presidential candidacy today.

They asserted that if nominated he cannot defeat Gov. Al Smith.

Assuming that Smith will be the Democratic nominee, Rep. L. J. Dickinson, (R.) of Iowa, leader of the farm bloc in the house, came out with a bold forecast analysis of Smith's strength against Hoover and Smith's strength against Lowden in the electoral college, Dickinson is supporting Lowden.

His conclusion was that Smith would carry New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island and New Mexico against either Hoover or Lowden—a remarkable concession for any regular Republican to make, even in the heat of a pre-convention struggle.

Claims Lowden Stronger
Another of Dickinson's conclusions was scarcely less remarkable.

He predicted that against Hoover in November, Smith may well carry Illinois, Indiana, Maryland, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, Oklahoma and South Dakota, but that Lowden could carry all these states against Smith.

Summing up, the Iowan declared that a Smith-Hoover contest would send the New York governor into the White House with a 327-204 victory in the electoral college, but that a Smith-Lowden contest would virtually be the reverse, Lowden winning in the college by a vote of 322 to 209.

"From the present trend," said Dickinson, "it must be assumed that Gov. Smith will be the Democratic nominee. Anyone heretofore skeptical about Smith's nomination need but examine the returns from a few of the states of the middle west to realize his nomination cannot be stopped."

Hoover Supporters Laugh
"The Republican line of defense must be drawn accordingly. In the east, Republican uncertainty is conceded, and with general tendency toward unemployment Smith will be even stronger than present day predictions. With Republican weakness in the east, we can only hope to win with republican strength in the middle west."

Dickinson's unusually bold prediction created a mild sensation among the politicians who seldom commit themselves publicly so far in advance of a presidential election.

His conclusions, of course, were pooh poohed by the Hoover supporters. Rep. Walter H. Newton (R.) of Minnesota, for example, declared that Dickinson "does his candidate (Lowden) an ill turn by asserting that Smith will carry New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and New Mexico."

EIGHT BODIES FOUND BURNED

Believe Victims Slain and House Is Fired To Hide The Crime

Cisco, Texas, April 7.—The bodies of R. N. Jackson, 40, his wife and six children were found burned to death in their farm home, five miles west of here, today.

The throat of one of the daughters was slashed and another's skull mashed.

Authorities believe the victims were murdered and the home set fire to hide the crime.

Falling timbers could possibly have crushed the second daughter's skull, authorities stated, but unmistakable evidence of an attack was found in the debris.

The children were Catherine, 12; Gladys 10; Dorothy Glenn, 12; Jimmy Dillon, 6, and twin babies, aged 14 months.

The blaze started shortly before midnight. The bodies of the children were badly burned. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson showed no marks of violence.

Feeling was intense as neighbors for miles around gathered. Charles Jackson, a brother of the husband and father, conferred with authorities.

An inquest was ordered.

CHAUNCEY DEPEW

The death of Chauncey Mitchell Depew at his home in New York City, has removed a notable figure in American life, notable not only for the diversity of his accomplishments, but notable also for activities which extended for a score of years beyond man's allotted time. Had he lived until the 23rd of this month he would have attained the 94th anniversary of his birth, and yet he was chairman of the board of directors of the New York Central railroad when death came to him this week.

Chauncey Depew, lawyer, orator, politician, railroad and far-famed raconteur, was born at Peekskill, New York, in 1834. He graduated from Yale in 1856, was a member of the New York state assembly in 1861-62, was secretary of state for New York 1863-65, and in 1869 became counsel for the New York Central railroad, of which he was president from 1885 to 1899, inclusive. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency in 1888 and served his state as a member of the upper house of congress for two terms, 1899-1911.

Mr. Depew had been failing for some time under the weight of his extreme years, but apprehension concerning his health was not felt until he contracted a cold in the south which caused his return to the north. When it became known, as it did Wednesday, that his cold had developed into bronchial pneumonia, the gravest fears were entertained that he would not recover, but the final summons was not expected to come so quickly.

Mr. Depew has often been referred to as the "Grand Old Man of the Republican Party" but he was more than that, he was an able man, and so recognized, regardless of party lines, and at all times a splendid, high-class gentleman.

AN AWFUL FATE

With over 400 convicts locked up in the steel cages in her hold—over 400 of the most vicious and desperate criminals convicted during the past 12 months in the courts of France—the prison ship, La Martiniere, is enroute from La Rochelle to Cayenne in French Guiana, where the most of them will probably spend the remainder of their lives.

This same ship carries a similar cargo yearly to the prison colony in New Guiana, life in which, it report is worthy of credence, is worse than death. In fact, many prisoners are said to voice preference for the knife of the guillotine over the misery of colony life may be escaped.

Possibly the horrors of life in the colony have been exaggerated, but it is a significant fact that La Martiniere is the present day representative of the line of prison ships which have been carrying cargoes of criminals to the colony for centuries and we have never come upon anything in type to indicate that the colony has been overcrowded.

It's an awful fate which faces this cargo of French criminals, but they are the perpetrators of awful crimes and in all probability this punishment has been meted out to them that their punishments may fit their crimes. It may be that such have been their crimes that they deserve a punishment worse than death.

In any event, the French people have the satisfaction of knowing that those who make the voyage in the La Martiniere will not be freed within a few months or a few years by a parole board to prey upon them once more.

REDEEM CHICAGO

It was perhaps natural enough for sarcastic United States senator to raise the question on the floor of their august chamber whether the federal government ought not to withdraw the marines from Nicaragua for immediate service in Chicago. Such injurious flings at this sacred city of the nation unhappily are to be expected under existing conditions.

It is generally realized, of course, in Washington and elsewhere that Chicago is being cruelly betrayed by some of its high officials, who are either incompetent or worse. It is realized also that what is coming to outsiders is tragic to hosts of conscientious men and women of this city who desire good government, even if they do not all take the right course politically to get it. But outside critics who are capable of thinking things through recognize that to apply the tabasco of their sarcasm is one way to sting Chicagoans into taking the necessary action to rescue their city from the polluting touch of its criminal oppressors.

There are aspects of the Chicago situation that legitimately may arouse national concern. The United States district attorney, for example, is investigating certain ramifications of the terrorist conspiracy. There is, further, the theoretical question whether Chicago is enjoying a republican form of government instead of a dictatorship of systematic terrorism by the pampered, protected, revenue-producing and utterly lawless underworld.

But sarcastic senators and all others should know that Chicago will require no federal aid in cleaning house and restoring within its borders true representative government as well as orderly political and legal processes. In the long run, an electorate gives itself the sort of government and administration it desires. In a confusion of issues, revealing and irrelevant, actual and sham, groups of voters make serious mistakes and despite good intentions, put unfit men in high office. But reactions are inevitable; the unfit persons, who recklessly abuse their power, cause a moral and civic revolt that can not be withstood.

Chicago has had its civic ups and downs. The line has come for another uprising of the decent elements. The primary on April 10 offers the first opportunity, and there will follow others. Demagogues can not fool the majority of the Chicago voters indefinitely.—Chicago News.

UNCLE SAM'S STEPCHILD

The United States government has promised to aid in one more survey of the Virgin islands, our most recently acquired possessions. The survey will be directed by Tuskegee and Hampton institutes and will devote itself to searching out a remedy for the manifold ills which have fallen upon the little islands since they became a part of the republic in 1918.

We hope sincerely that something more will result from this latest investigation than from the one conducted by the secretary of labor in 1924. On that occasion, it will be remembered, a lengthy document was filed. We were told, among other things, that the chief manufacture of the Virgin islands, bay rum, had been damaged severely by our prohibition laws, which prevented the export of that liquid into the United States. And we were told that something would have to be done about the morals of the Virgin islands, although they were "as moral as any people in the West Indies." Various recommendations were made to congress in the matter of giving the Virgin islands a better government, but nothing was done about it.

Since the islands are dominated by American law, and since their culture is measured by the culture of our country, the dwindling population of these 53 pleasant islands very naturally wishes to share in American prosperity. They have indicated a pathetic desire to be good Americans. Only a few weeks ago we saw them come out in all their holiday attire to give Lindbergh a stirring welcome. No doubt they cherished this recognition of their existence and rebuilt upon it their hopes for a kinder paternity. But the next day Lindbergh left and the Virgin islands sank again into oblivion as far as the citizens of the mainland were concerned.

Outside of a few government investigations and one airplane landing then, we have ignored these confused people who are our fellow citizens. The survey now beginning seems to spring from an intelligent concern for their welfare. Its findings, we do not doubt, will be valuable. But let us do something about these findings when they are returned, not accept them blandly and forget the Virgin islands until time for the next survey comes around.—New York World.

HOROSCOPE
By Genevieve Kemble.

SUNDAY, APRIL 8.

Increasing knowledge increases sorrow, in the beginning, but increase it enough and knowledge puts an end to pain.

—Kevah Deo Orifits.

Sunday's horoscope holds significant factors of much social and intellectual activity. Gayety and liveliness rule the day, but there is a note of warning against duplicity and fraud. Extreme circumspection is enjoined. Sign all writings with caution.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of business and personal liveliness with social, domestic and affectional as well as intellectual matters engaging the attention, and calling for discretion and precaution. Sign with care, and be alert against fraud and duplicity, especially in new ventures. A child born on this day should have many talents and accomplishments fitting it for popularity and success. Yet it may be of restless tendencies and be subject to treachery and annoyances.

Notable Nativities: David Rittenhouse, American astronomer.

MONDAY, APRIL 9.

Monday's astrological forecast is for an eventful day, with crystallized conditions broken up to make way for abrupt and sudden changes of momentous importance. These may be attended by tumult and friction unless managed with liveliness and control. The finances are not well fortified.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of an eventful year, with unforeseen events precipitated upon the breaking up of long thwarting obstructions. But the benefits and general advantages may be nullified. A child born on this day should have many stable qualities and should be ingenious as well as independent in thought and action. It should learn to control its impetuosity and its temper.

Notable Nativities: Fisher Ames, former President of Harvard.

THE SALEM NEWS

SHORT BUT FREQUENT
RESTS KEEP UP PEP

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.

United States Senator from New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Here is a sensible bit of advice. It comes from Dr. Donald Guthrie: "A busy man's vacation should be taken in broken doses, a safer plan than a prolonged one taken after exhaustion develops."

That is about as wise a suggestion as I have read in a long time. Why wait till complete exhaustion arrives?

If we could get work-out men and women to take the needed rest before utter prostration comes, many lives would be saved. It is dreadful to see a man struggle along, striving hard to finish his task, and then falling in his tracks.

I have in mind as I write, a man close to 70, working at his desk every day, his face haggard, his lips white, all but crushed under his daily task. I talked with him the other day: "Go to Florida for two weeks, lie in the sun, get a lot of needed sleep and come back to take up your work with renewed vigor."

"Can't do it now," he replied. "In June I'll get away for a good long vacation."

What a shame! That man is liable to die in his tracks. Besides, the work he can do in his present state won't amount to much. Two weeks of real rest would permit him to do in the following two weeks ten times as much as he will do in his worn-out condition.

This man should take his vacation in broken doses. A quarter of it now and another quarter some other time, would keep him fresh and fit all the time.

You know I am telling you the gospel truth. You are nodding assent. But what will you do about it? Nothing, absolutely nothing!

You ask then, "Why are you giving all this advice?"

I am doing it so your wife will read what I say. She will grasp the importance of the matter and then, Mister, you'll take that partial vacation right now!

Whenever a man tells me that his wife reads this health advice, I know that he is saying to himself, "I wish these health advocates would get writer's cramp!"

But, come now, why not rearrange that vacation idea of yours? Instead of waiting till next summer's vacation, why not take a week this spring?

If you do, you will get twice as much out of the three weeks you have left for summer. Think it over.

It will do your wife good to have a little vacation too. How about

"THINK OF THIS"

Isaiah 1:17 "Learn to do Well"
"Grandpa," said the boy,
"why do you shake your shoes and turn them over before you put them on in the morning?"
"Do I do that every day?"
"Yes, but I don't see anything come out."
"Why, Ned, I got in the habit of doing that when I lived in India. Often scorp-ions or centipedes would hide in them during the night."
"But you don't find those things in your shoes over here do you?"
"No, but I formed the habit, and now do it without thinking. Habit is a queer thing, isn't it, Ned. Whether it is good or bad it grows stronger each day. If you want to have good habits when you are old, form them when you are young."

We pray today for the successful practice of the ideal life.

Christ's Easter victory is not merely the warrant for the hope of future resurrection. On it is founded a new spiritual order of life. Into that life and order we are incorporated "in Him." He being crucified at our disposal the Di-vise places at our disposal the Divine energy which raised Him from the dead, that we may live now the life "everlasting," that is, not of time and this world, but of God and "heaven."

ALL DRESSED UP TO STAY HOME

JEANNE EAGELS HITS AT EQUITY FINE AND BAN

New York, April 7 — Jeanne Eagles insisted today she would appear in a play on Broadway next fall despite the decision of the Actors' Equity Association banning her from the stage until Sept. 1, 1929, and imposing a fine of two weeks' salary, approximately $3,600.

The actress declared she is already under contract with Sam H. Harris to appear next October in "Parita."

The star of "Rain" and "Her Cardboard Lover," latter of which she is accused of deserting in Milwaukee and St. Louis, issued the following defi:

"A handful of actors for whom, with a few exceptions, I have no respect, cannot keep me from my public, which I know is a big one. I shall appear in a play on Broadway before Christmas. I have never been a full fledged member of the Equity."

I joined the organization under protest in 1925 at the insistence of my manager, Sam H. Harris."

FORD BESIEGED BY INVITATIONS

Wants To Live Quietly While In London, But May See Baldwin

London, April 7 — Henry Ford, who came to England for a three weeks' visit that will combine both business and pleasure, was overwhelmed today with invitations to attend public and private social affairs and to meet men of distinction in every walk of life.

He wishes to live quietly while in England and will decline most of the invitations. It is understood, however, that he will meet Premier Stanley Baldwin, and possibly the Prince of Wales.

Mr. Ford declared that business conditions in the United States are excellent. He declared that the only idle men are "those who don't want to work."

"I have heard that there are breadlines in our large cities, but I will guarantee there is not one," declared the famous motor car maker.

Dodges Rubber Questions

This was Mr. Ford's first visit to England in 12 years. He was amused at the efforts of the English reporters to obtain interviews and statements upon every possible topic. They were especially anxious to get Mr. Ford's opinion upon the steady decline in the price of crude rubber following the announcement by Premier Baldwin that the British government's restrictions upon rubber production in Malaya and Ceylon would be discontinued on Nov. 1.

Mr. Ford was asked if he would take advantage of the prevailing low prices to buy up quantities of rubber for future delivery to his plants, but he refused to say. He was asked also if he might abandon his own project for establishing rubber plantations in Brazil, now that he can buy rubber so cheaply in the open market, but again he was silent.

Success Club

Members of the Success club went to Damascus Friday afternoon and were guests there of Mrs. Fred Dahl.

Fancywork was a diversion and music entertained. As a concluding pleasure the hostess served a 6 o'clock dinner and used Easter decorations on the table.

In two weeks the members will meet with Mrs. Hatie Murphy, McKinley ave.

Surprise Miss Hartley

Miss Eva Hartley, teacher of the Friends school, in Winona, was complimented with a surprise visit Friday evening from a group of her friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Mcgrail, Winona. Games entertained during the informal evening and refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Camp, of Winona, who spent the winter in North Carolina, returned home Friday.

Wealthy Author Now

Miss Dorothea Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith, North Howard st., and Michael Schuller, of Penn st., were united in marriage at 11 a. m. Friday by Rev. C. F. Evans, pastor of the Christian church, at his home.

Following the ceremony a family dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Schuller left Friday afternoon for Pittsburgh, to spend the week-end.

Mrs. Schuller, a graduate of Salem High school, has been employed in the Arthur Brian Insurance office. Mr. Schuller is employed by the Mullins Manufacturing corporation. The young people will make their home with the groom's parents.

Mrs. Snyder Entertains

Mrs. H. P. Brame and Mrs. L. W. King won the club prizes at bridge and Mrs. Raymond Bartholomew was awarded the guest prize at a meeting of club associates when Mrs. Charles Snyder extended hospitality Friday afternoon at her home on Broadway.

Four tables were employed in the games, and these were centered with attractive little purple baskets tied with orchid mauline. The hostess served a lunch. Mrs. S. Cecil Chessman, of Blauox, Pa., was included in the guest list.

Dinner-Bridge

Miss Blanche Whitney delightfully entertained a group of her friends at a dinner-bridge Friday evening at Foster's in Hanoverton. The appointments were in keeping with the Easter season.

Three tables were in play in the bridge games and the trophies offered were won by Miss Ethel Beardmore, Mrs. L. W. King and Miss Jane Gullford. Mrs. M. A. Conkle, of Canton, was an out-of-town guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Odoran left Saturday morning for Atlantic City and New York, to be gone 10 days. They expect to witness the boardwalk parade at Atlantic City Sunday morning.

Mrs. Lynn Shearer and F. L. Fuhr, of Canton, will spend Easter with Mrs. Clara Burson, Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Taylor and Wayne Brown, Winona, left yesterday for New Vienna, to visit relatives and friends.

SKYSCRAPER FOR BENEFIT OF CITY IS CHICAGO IDEA

Rent Would Pay for Such Building In Two Years Officials Say

Chicago, April 6 — A municipal skyscraper, costing approximately five million dollars, has been proposed here for the purpose of enriching the city coffers.

Real estate, in the downtown district of Chicago, is worth huge sums of money, and a survey made by the city officials revealed that municipal property now is, in many cases, unproductive of revenue.

As a result, it has been proposed that a 42-story building be erected by the city on some of its loop property.

Rentals, according to estimates of the architects who drew up plans, would total more than $2,500,000 a year. Consequently, in two years the building would have paid for itself and thereafter would pour several millions of dollars a year into the city coffers to help reduce taxes.

World Build Others

If successful, the first municipal skyscraper of Chicago would be duplicated by structures on other valuable cities owned by the city, with a resultant income of millions a year to the city, exclusive of the added value of municipal holdings.

Plans drawn by Holabird and Roche, architects, have been presented to the mayor by Chris P. Paschen, city commissioner.

The first, experimental structure would be erected on the site of the Chicago avenue pumping station at Michigan avenue. Some city officials would be contained in the building, but the majority of the offices would be rented.

The entrance of the City of Chicago into the "skyscraper" owning field, however, is only tentative. It awaits the approval by the people of the city, through their political representatives, of several schemes intended to increase the city income without increasing the tax rate.

Increasing the city income has become an involved problem for the council.

The school system has requested an increase of more than forty million dollars a year for operating expenses, and other departments have made demands which might result in a sharp increase either in tax rates, or in assessed valuation here.

Mayor William Hale Thompson is attempting to solve the problem by putting the city on a revenue producing basis without more taxation.

Legal Aspects

Legal aspects of a real estate venture by the city have not yet been considered, but advocates of the skyscraper scheme maintain there would be no barrier from that angle.

Tenants for a municipal building could be obtained easily, it was claimed, since much of the city property is situated in the most desirable business sections of the city.

Eventually the plan conceives a development of all city property, which is now a drag on the corporate purse strings. Some use would be found by Mayor Thompson for every foot of ground owned by the City of Chicago, which is considerable.

Hits Propaganda

Omaha, Neb., April 7.—Declaring that the United States is the victim of an organized system of propaganda against national defense, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur in an address before the Chamber of Commerce today, urged business men to support an "adequate navy" as a first guarantee of national prosperity.

Boy Is Drowned

New Philadelphia, O., April 7.—Dale, eight-year-old son of Frank Stranberry, of near Monroeville, is dead, having been drowned late yesterday when the limb of a tree broke, dropping him into the Tuscarawas river, near his home. The body was recovered a short time later.

They Advertised

Bombay, India, April 7.—Twenty prospective brides of British soldiers, who arrived here upon the liner City of Paris, were all married within an hour after they had debarked. Some of them had not seen their fiancés before, the marriages having been arranged through advertisements.

Danzig.—When a motor bus from Marienburg arriving at the Danzig customs office at Kalithof, one of the passengers, Moses Snifried, thought it a good opportunity to brush his clothes. Meanwhile, the customs officers were examining his luggage. Suddenly the back of the brush flew even and a flood of diamonds rolled to the floor. He was arrested and the diamonds were confiscated. They were estimated to be worth $70,000.

HECKSCHER MAY SETTLE $18,000 ON MISS HEMPEL

New York, April 7.—Frieda Hempel, operatic soprano, and August Heckscher, 79-year-old philanthropist, may settle their difficulties out of court.

It was reported today that Heckscher, in an effort to end the litigation brought against him by Miss Hempel, has offered to settle $18,000 a year on her for life.

Miss Hempel had claimed that Heckscher originally agreed to pay her $48,000 a year under the terms of a novel contract which she cites in her action against Heckscher, trial of which is pending in the supreme court.

In return for the $48,000 annually, the opera singer said she bound herself not to accept any engagement to "sing for hire" that would take her from New York city for more than two days at a time. Also that she was to sing for charity or community service at any time the aged millionaire requested.

She has not appeared in concert since April, 1926, when the verbal contract is said to have been made.

PAY TRIBUTE TO CHAUNCEY DEPEW

Service for Financier and Statesman Is Held This Morning

New York, April 7.—Reverent tribute was paid to Chauncey M. Depew by thousands of people, of all walks of life, as the body of the beloved arch-optimist and philosopher of kindness was borne from his home to St. Thomas' church, on Fifth ave., where funeral services were held, and thence to its last resting place, his boyhood home in Peekskill.

Respectful, silent crowds surged about the Depew home, their numbers becoming so great that the resources of the cordon of motorcycle policemen were taxed to the utmost. In the great throng were the rich and the poor, those who knew Chauncey Depew and those who did not.

As the body of the famous statesman, empire builder and philosopher was slowly carried down the steps of his home on West 57th st., the milling and surging in the streets ceased, and over the great throng that had congregated there came a silence that spoke eloquently of the feeling that were in the hearts of the people.

At the church, just around the corner, the funeral service had the quality of a national tribute. In the church were men and women who had known the great American patriarch intimately. Nation, state, city were represented in the several hundred persons present in the church—statesmen, bankers, industrialists, or just plain citizens.

PAID $2,000 FOR THEATER BLAST

Confessions of Leading Conspirators Blame Movie Lessee

Crown Point, Ind., April 7.—Two thousand dollars was the price paid for the destruction of the State theater, Hammond's million dollar movie palace according to confession made by the three leading conspirators, as officials today took steps for the speedy trial of the bombers.

All confessions state that William Kleihege, Sr., the lessee of the State theater was responsible for the bombing. It was by following this theory as to motive and the failure of one of the plotters to be paid for his work that the six month old mystery was solved.

The first break occurred following the arrest of Marwood Williams, trustee of the Hammond Hod Carriers' and Common Laborers union. Joe Millican, another of the conspirators went before the official group and told how he became the payoff man between Kleihege on State st. in Hammond.

Million was the movie operator at the State theater.

Williams claims he was "drawn in" on the conspiracy when Harry Ames, business agent of the hodcarriers; Dean Malloy, former bartender and Chicago gunman, and James Tutes, Ames' bodyguard, drove up in front of the Hammond labor temple and ask him to come with them that they had "a job."

SHANGHAI CAFES GIVE CITY NAME "PARIS OF EAST"

Americans Are Running Gay Establishments And Clean Up

Shanghai, April 6.—Shanghai's much advertised "night life," that gay and alluring mode of existence which turns night into day for many, is responsible for the existence in Shanghai today of a total of 55 cafe-cabarets and roadhouses, all within the international settlement and French concession, the two foreign-controlled areas of the "Paris of the Orient."

Approximately one-half of these establishments are run by foreigners, the majority of them Americans, with homemade experience which, adapted to Oriental conditions, have resulted in novel and unique methods whereby the night-bird is swiftly and painlessly parted from his cash. The other half of Shanghai's three-score cabarets are owned by Chinese and managed by Americans, Britons, Frenchmen or Russians. Only two cabarets are purely Chinese in proprietorship and management.

Employ Many
Shanghai's 55 cabarets give employment to 150 men, who act as managers or "bouncers," 350 musicians, the majority Filipino and Russian, who play American jazz music, and a handful of white and colored Americans, including the world-known aggregation "Whitely" Smith's Majestic orchestra; 2,200 women, more than 2,000 of them Russian dancing partners and the remainder Chinese or Japanese girls whose duties, like the Russian's, are to boost the sale of champagne, high-priced fake cocktails, and dance tickets; and some 5,000 Chinese waiters, ticket-sellers, cashiers, cooks, carpenters, doorkeepers, and other help.

Shanghai night life has swelled the Russian invasion, too, and girls, attractive and otherwise, flock to this city from Harbin, other Manchurian cities and from Siberia, drawn by tales of good fortune, lured by the prospect of easy money by unscrupulous Russian "agents" of cabarets seeking "new faces" with which to beguile Shanghai's tired business men in their ceaseless pursuit of thrills. There is a bright seam to the sordid world that springs into existence each night with the fall of darkness—romances have sprung from meetings in these cabarets, marriages have resulted, some of them blissful, and others short-lived.

In Foreign Settlement
All of Shanghai's cabarets are within an area less than two miles in diameter. They are operated from early in the evening or after dinner usually until four or five o'clock in the morning. Saturday nights until daybreak. Prices vary with the class of the establishments, which are grouped in three classes in the foreign municipalities. Licenses cost from approximately $50 to $150 monthly. Drinks, such as whiskey, soda or brandy, from a quarter to half a dollar. The dancing girls are not permitted these drinks but drink champagne at $8 the quart or, champagne not forthcoming, cocktails consisting of gingerale or tea and a cherry, price 50 cents, on which the girls draw 20 or 25 per cent as commission.

But Shanghai's night life is not as bright, as gay, as in the days immediately preceding and following the world war, when trade boomed due to the turmoil in Europe. In February three cabarets closed down, half a dozen advertised themselves for sale, yet others would be glad of a chance to sell out, for civil war has all but halted trade, and taxation introduced by the Nationalist government is paring profits to the bone. Nevertheless each evening finds the cabarets the center of life.

SHIP OWNERS FACE CHARGES OF CONSPIRACY

Cleveland, April 7.—More than a score of great Lakes shipping companies and owners were named defendants in an injunction suit filed in federal court today charging them with violating the Sherman anti-trust act.

Investigation by Harold B. Teegarden, special assistant to the United States attorney general, into charges of conspiracy to open the Great Lakes shipping season late and close early, in order to control shipping rates, in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, various ship-owners, members of the Lake Carriers association here, face prosecution United States District Attorney A. E. Bernstein declared today.

"Our investigation has disclosed that these men have conspired to control prices in direct violation to the anti-trust law," Bernstein explained.

The names of those threatened with prosecution were not made public.

SPRING CLEANING
Editor, The News:

Spring, the blessed coming to life time is with us. As the Easter lilies us with a spiritual joy, so the swelling of the buds and the warm sun-shine begets in us the desire to make all things new and fresh from our costumes to our homes, gardens and business places.

The other day as I walked down town, the evidence that spring is here was more than in the air, the song of birds to the greening of the grass. The old town had so caught the spirit of it that it fairly teemed with activity—cleaning off the winter soot and rubbish and making new here and there.

Yes, spring was apparent from the crocus lined walk from our own door to the down town shop windows filled with fresh new attractions, beautiful and useful.

I observed a neighbor busy with the gutter in front of her property. She remarked: "What this street needs is paving." I readily agreed with her and was grateful for her remark. As I walked I noticed the winter accumulation of dirt on the streets had been swept into piles ready to be hauled away. A little farther on I had to walk into the street around a new sidewalk that was in the process of hardening. Down town one walks through safety sheds or past boarded windows indicating improvements going on within and I thought if each home owner and civic organization could catch this spirit of freshening and beautifying we might be able to present a city beautiful before summer is ended.

The Chamber of Commerce of our neighbor city, Canton, last year staged a home improvement contest offering prizes for homes showing greatest improvement. Interested business firms and individuals contributed the prizes.

Improvements may draw something on our purse strings but more in turning our activities to worth while results. Some time ago, city council approved another better side walks week. There are so many bad sidewalks in town that were city council to undertake to order them all repaired we would have more than a week's steady job, so we appeal to the property and home owners to look well to your sidewalks. This is a very good place to begin our improvements as it not only increases the appearance and value of the property but it insures safety to pedestrians and renders less liable damage suits from injuries to those walking on them.

ANNA STRATTON.

KNAPP DEFENSE BEING FRAMED

Former Woman Official Is Ready To Go On Trial for Felonies

Albany, N. Y., April 7.—The defense which Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state, will make when she goes on trial on the indictments growing out of her administration of the $1,200,000 census fund of 1925, was being mapped out here today.

Indications are that the first woman ever elected to high office in this state will be placed on trial on Monday, April 30, at a special term of the supreme court.

The date of the trial will be announced next Wednesday morning by Supreme Court Justice Stephen Callaghan of Brooklyn, designated by Governor Smith to preside over the special term.

The Albany county court house in which Mrs. Knapp will be tried is only a short distance from the state capital where she resigned for two years as secretary of state.

Charged With Forgery
At liberty under $5,000 bail, Mrs. Knapp today had returned to Syracuse following a long conference with her trial counsel, John J. Conway of Albany. She is expected to remain in Syracuse until next Tuesday night. On Tuesday night she will return here to be present in court on the following morning when the date for her trial will be announced.

Mrs. Knapp is charged with forgery, grand larceny and other felonies. The special grand jury which handed up the six indictments against her after being in session only six hours, will be called together again next Tuesday morning to hear additional evidence regarding the alleged maladministration of the census funds.

At least one close relative of Mrs. Knapp is expected to be summoned before the grand jury next week. During the Moreland investigation it was charged that Mrs. Knapp had paid a half dozen of her relatives upwards of $25,000 for census work they never performed.

NOTICE!
We would call attention to the advertisements of Mrs. J. E. Boyle, electric needle specialist, which appear in the paper.

Mrs. Boyle comes to Salem bringing credentials from the leading physicians of Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and others of note. She has to her credit over fourteen years experience in her offices in these cities, much of her work being sent direct from the medical fraternity.

Her testimonials tell us she is an adept in her line, in which are comparatively few successful operators, and which covers a field which is not in opposition to the medical practitioner.

For the present, Mrs. Boyle has secured room in the offices of Dr. Albright, 27 Lincoln Ave. 83c

WALSH SELECTS THREE CLUBS AS NATIONAL'S BEST

Pirates, Giants, Cardinals Appear About Equal, Is View of Writer

By DAVIS J. WALSH
New York, April 7.—If you must have something easy, why not start swallowing a megaphone from its nether or suburban end? Anyhow, today's trick will be an attempt to call the National League's pre-season situation by its given name and, by comparison, everything else looks simple and I might mean silly, at that.

"Handicapped" from the standpoint of current prospects, which is all any man can do and still retain his gravity, it appears that any one of four clubs might be rated at the pace without writing a letter of explanation to your family physician.

The Pirates, for example, may be figured at this time to be no worse than they were in 1927, and if they weren't too good then, all the rest of the league can say is that the official statisticians must have been entirely too flippant.

First Three About Equal
The Giants, regardless of Hornsby's absence, look the part of a one-two shot. The Cardinals have too much stuff to be rated any worse than the best and the Cubs, lacking balance though they may, have enough class in various departments to rate a real pennant chance.

There isn't sufficient difference in the pre-race prospects of the first three named to award any of them a definite advantage. The National League's April form sheet, therefore might be written off as follows:

Pirates.
New York Giants.
St. Louis Cardinals.
Chicago Cubs.
Cincinnati Reds.
Brooklyn Dodgers.
Boston Braves.
Phillies.

Cubs Have Good Chance
The writer is studiously avoiding any attempt to declare himself on the probable order of the finish in October and, in consequence, is passing no buck coupling the first three in the betting. The fact is simply that this trio seems to be of almost equal strength at this time.

There is so much balance to the league as a whole, however, that it is possible some outfit outside the first three will break through, the Cubs would seem to have the best chance of doing this but, if you judge them on current prospects, it must be admitted that any club with uncertain infielders at second and third bases can't be a stand-out at this early stage of the proceedings.

The same factor rates the Dodgers well down in the second division. They have remarkable pitching and unquestionably more punch than the 1927 club but the right side of the infield is distinctly juvenile.

GEORGIA QUINTET LEADS TOURNEY

Chicago, April 7.—Carr Creek, Kentucky, had a "wow" of a basketball team—until it bumped up against a rangy squad of southerners from Vienna, Ga.

As a result of that meeting, Vienna today rules the favorite to cop the national interscholastic basketball championship being fought out at the University of Chicago.

Vienna's 22 to 1 win over the Kentucky mountaineers last night was by all odds the sensation of the tourney to date. And to nearly everybody, except perhaps the Vienna boys themselves, it was the biggest upset of the meet.

The other Kentucky team from Ashland, qualified for the semi-finals by beating Morris, Ala., 29 to 16.

Grand Forks, N. D., went into the semi-finals with a victory over Alexandria, La., 23 to 22.

The fourth team to qualify was Canton, Ill., who beat out St. George, Utah, 22 to 17.

Youngstown, April 7.—Promoter Al Zill today completed his preliminary card for the Scarney-Rocco skirmish here April 11. Four-round scuffles will provide the fans with an opportunity of witnessing five preliminary bouts with plenty of action hustled into the short distance affairs.

Oscar Gardner of New Castle and Jackie Coogan of Canton are ticketed to hop over the four-round route at 130 pounds. Billy Wallace of Youngstown is matched with Mike Polo of Pittsburgh at the same weight.

"Pickles" Donahue, local punch and sock artist, tests his kayo wallop with Willie Falk of Akron in the third mix at 158 pounds.

DETROITER IN LEAD IN PYLE'S BUNION DERBY

Groom, Texas, April 7.—C. C. Cross Country Pyle's bunion bedouins today moved out of Groom for McLean, their 35th control. Thirty-six miles was the advance tabulated of the trek.

With Arne Suominen, Detroit napraph, heading the van with an elapsed time of 204:10:14 for the 1229.6 miles from Los Angeles to Groom, the other followers in the pack continued to press more closely with each passing day. Suominen maintained a steady pace, and refused to register excitement when officials told him that Andrew Payne, stocky Oklahoman, had cut down his margin by 37 minutes, 29 seconds. John Sale, Pasaic, New Jersey Finn, who also had been hitting a consistent gait recently, was entrenched in fourth place with a four hour lead over Philip Granville, Hamilton, Ontario.

AMERICAN DAVIS CUP TEAM WINS FROM MEXICANS
Mexico City, April 7.—With two singles matches already in the bag, the United States Davis cup team is expected to clinch its series with Mexico's representatives today when "Big Bill" Tilden and Arnold T. Jones meet Robert Kinsey and Alfonso Unda in the doubles.

Cincinnati, April 7.—The major baseball teams of Ohio will clash here today when the Cleveland Indians cross bats with the Cincinnati National League club. Harder, recruit hurler, failed to live up to his name, being nipped for enough hits to lose the fray.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 7.—The White Sox scored a shutout over the Indians of the American association here yesterday, the score being 4 to 0. Ted Lyons was the winning pitcher.

Evidence of American citizenship is demanded from applicants for positions in the tire fabric mills of New Bedford, Mass. In consequence of this requirement more than 1,000, applications for citizenship papers were made by alien workers in New Bedford in a single week.

Grover Hartley Wants $25,000 For a Toe Nail

Atlanta, Ga., April 7.—Grover Hartley, former catcher of the New York Giants, has filed suit for $25,000 against the Georgia railroad for the loss of a toenail on his right foot.

Hartley claims as the result of the injury, his catching and batting suffered, and he was released by McGraw to Indianapolis.

The accident occurred April 6, 1926, when a flagman stepped on Hartley's great toe as the latter was strolling barefooted through the Pullman, enroute to New York from the Florida training camp.

The suit filed by Hartley alleges that as a right handed batter, he was accustomed to throw considerable weight on the toes of his right foot, and that the injured toe caused him to flinch and pull away.

Whippet Six Will Be Reduced Soon; Sets Speed Marks

Toledo, April 7.—The lowest priced six cylinder car in the world will be announced soon by Willys-Overland, John N. Willys, president, said today.

This new car, Mr. Willys declared, is equipped with a highly developed power plant that already has flashed it to a new speed and endurance record for cars of its size, in a 24-hour grind on the Indianapolis Speedway under the official observation of the Hoosier Motor club.

This car will be designated as the new Whippet Six and is said to be powered with a highly developed engine which features for the first time in the history of the light six field, a seven-bearing crankshaft. "Other features which are included in the new car will set a new trend for quality, comfort, speed, economy and engineering as did the four-cylinder Whippet in the light four field," Mr. Willys declared.

"Just as the Whippet started the trend toward four-wheel brakes among the light four-cylinder cars, the new Whippet Six will make inevitable the seven-bearing crankshaft among the light sixes," Mr. Willys said. "This marks a new trend in quality construction among the lower priced sixes since no other car in or near the price range of the new Whippet Six is so equipped and I believe that within the next year or two all six-cylinder engines will incorporate this type of construction which is necessary to the properly running six-cylinder engine."

ELECTRIC LIGHT OF 50,000 WATT POWER IS MADE

Nela Park Expert Turns Out Huge Lamp; Gives Noon Day Light

Cleveland, April 7.—The largest and brightest electric light bulb has been produced by Daniel K. Wright of the incandescent lamp department of the General Electric company's laboratory at Nela Park, here. It is a 50-kilowatt lamp.

This incandescent lamp produces noon-day light it is claimed. Aviators long have been seeking a lamp of this type. Lamps on aviation landing fields used at the present time produce many sources of light instead of one. This prevents an easy and accurate landing. Wright's lamp will enable players to make night landings without danger, it is said.

Wright's lamp may be used extensively in the making of moving pictures. Here it will save cost and time. Actors would not have to use "make-up" under such a light and it is said to prevent shadows. Heretofore 30 kilowatt lamps have been the largest used. They have been guaranteed for only 10 hours. Although still in the development stage the new lamp will burn fourteen and one-half hours with no indication of bulb blackening, it is claimed.

Has Cooling Chimney
In order to prevent the heat produced from causing the glass from melting, cooling arrangement has been made. A sort of chimney is on the top of the lamp.

The strength of the 50,000 watt lamp can be better realized by making comparisons. It produces light equivalent to that used by fifty average Ohio homes. It is said to be five times as strong as the light being used now at Wright field.

The lamp is three feet high and twelve inches in diameter. The research laboratory of the vacuum bulb department of the General Electric Company believes that it has a life of 1,000 hours.

A committee of flying officers headed by Captain Sinclair Street and Lieutenant Gus Doolittle are making specifications to use the light on air fields. The new lamp may be used first at the Wright field in Dayton, Ohio.

A New Principle
The lamp is made under new principles. The large bulb has a "chimney" and a series of discs, one over the other. These are called fins. Inside is a nickel ball through which the terrific heat from the filament passes to the copper surface of the inside of the "chimney."

It is believed that the tungsten particles which in other high wattage lamps have been deposited on the glass walls of the bulb which caused blackening are in this case deposited on the copper making it clear. The cooled gas relieved of its tungsten vapor then falls down along the sides of the bulb at once cooling the glass.

Wright received the Coffin Award for meritorious service. In 1923 he made an automatic machine for soldering lamps. He is considered one of the best scholars in the American electrical field.

CAMILLE AND THE NOOSE ON NEW PROGRAM

Three big features, "Camille," "The Noose" and "The Shepherd of the Hills," will headline motion picture bills at the State and Grand next week.

The Grand will continue its amateur contests on Friday night when six or more acts will be presented in a Discovery Night program. This weekly contest is one of the outstanding hits of the season on the local radio.

Norma Talmadge plays "Camille" in the modern version of Alexander Dumas' noted classic which is to be on view at the State Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. It will be a bobbed-haired Camille and not the type formerly associated with the story, but it is said that Norma injects some real acting into this vehicle.

Gilbert Roland is her leading man and he is said to be good as her lover. This handsome Spaniard heads an excellent supporting cast, and it is also noted that Fred Niblo is the director.

A stirring picture of the underworld, titled "The Noose," is to be shown Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Richard Barthelmess has the part of a youth of college age who is arrested as he stands with a smoking revolver in his hand. He goes through the torture of death house at the penitentiary, but eventually justice wins out. It makes a thrilling movie. Alice Joyce—surely you remember Alice—and Lina Basquette play in important parts.

Another crook drama, "Square Crooks," is to be displayed at the Grand Monday and Tuesday. Here is a case where society's black sheep tries to turn white but an enemy on the police force does everything to prevent the regeneration. Johnny Mack Brown, the ex-football star, and Dorothy Dwan have the leading roles.

Harold Bell Wright's best liked novel of the backwoods, "The Shepherd of the Hills," will come to the Grand Wednesday for the balance of the week. This notable film, just completed with Molly O'Day and Alec B. Francis at the head of a large cast, is said to be the best picturization of any of the author's stories.

The story depicts life in the raw among the folks of the Arkansas Ozarks, still a primitive people in many ways. Emotions play a big part in the scenes portrayed, and many of their traditions are presented with realism and care.

Week after next, Harold Lloyd will be seen in "Speedy," his newest comedy just out of the cutting room. The complete bills for next week follow:

STATE
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday—"Camille," Norma Talmadge; comedy, "Aching Youth," Pathe News; Thursday, Friday, Saturday—"The Noose," Richard Barthelmess; comedy, "Blow by Blow," Fables, "Rats in His Garret."

GRAND
Monday and Tuesday—"Square Crooks," John Mack Brown; comedy, "A Social Error," Fables; Wednesday through Saturday—"The Shepherd of the Hills," Alec Francis; comedy, "Mickey's Circus," and No. 8 of "The House Without a Key."

TONIGHT
STATE—"The Valley of the Giants," in which Milton Sills, the husky hero, wipes up the forest land with his father's enemy who has been scheming to get control of the holdings.

GRAND—"Within the Law," Lon Chaney taking the part of a Chinaman with much success. This is a re-issue of the film popular three years ago.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, April 7.—Emulating the American invention for "slimming" the ankles, a Parisian shoemaker has just produced a shoe which elongates the leg at the back by means of a fish-colored inset of kid from where the shoe meets the stocking down to the heel. A similar inset illusively lengthens the front and is recalled by applique motifs of kid decorating the toes and sides.

Wooden-soled sandals with wide straps of leather makes the latest bath slippers. The soles and high heels are of wood, brightly-lacquered or painted in gay designs. The straps of gilt or colored leather are also in gay patterns.

Suzanne Talbot is showing them with her new beach costumes, providing glove-fitting slippers of gold cloth or satin to be worn under the sandals.

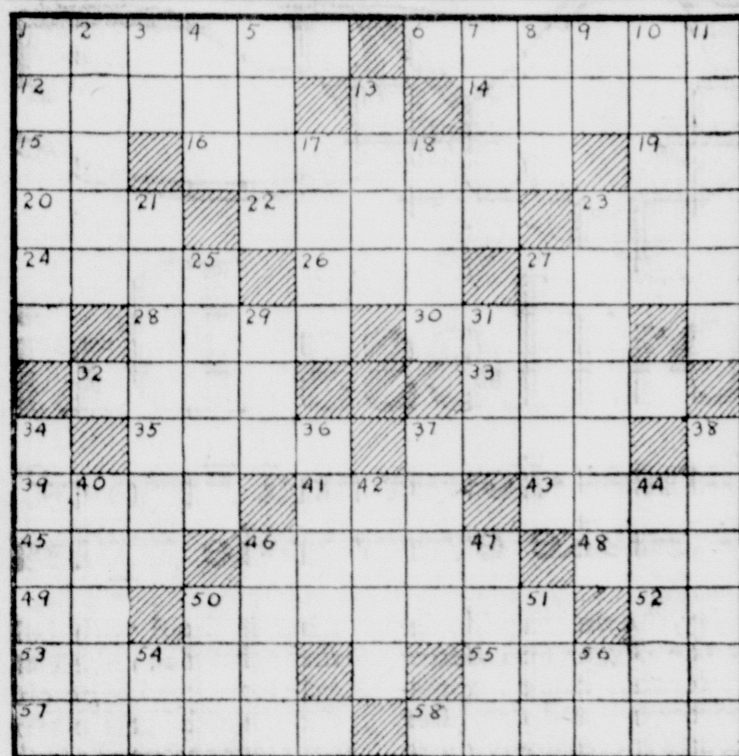

Since bobbed heads must be covered at night to keep the wave in place, the old-fashioned nightcap is coming back again, but naturally infinitely more charming than anything our grandmothers ever wore.

They are made of embroidered mull or plain net trimmed with lace and little bows of ribbon or tiny flowers. They come in many fascinating shapes, of which the Dutch idea with tabs over the ears, is certainly the favorite. The crocheted cap of heavy silk which fits the head tightly, is very practical but does not enhance the beauty like a lovely boudoir cap.

Square vanity-cases containing powder, rouge and mirror make a charming novelty coming in colored galalith. The cubical end of the lipstick is of contrasting color so that the whole makes a very striking modern art design.

A goddess for the unfortunate woman with a too-prominent chin is the jeweled veil now appearing trimmed with tiny pink pearls so closely sewn together that they render the lower half of the face almost invisible.

THE GUMPS—EASY PAYMENTS

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

The fondness for hot breakfast breads seems to be general. Many of us go without for lack of time to make them, slow ovens, irregular breakfast eaters, or for some other good reason, yet we say "some day" we will luxuriate. When the day comes, keep the following recipes and celebrate.

Quick Biscuit
When we cannot manage real yeast-raised biscuits these will do nicely instead. Sift together two level cups of flour, four level teaspoons of baking powder, a level teaspoonful of salt. Then work in two generous tablespoons of butter, or one of butter and one of good lard, cutting it in with a knife or with the friendly fork. Add gradually three-quarters of a cupful of rich milk, a little bit more milk, if the dough seems too stiff. Put onto a floured board and roll out to about a half-inch thickness, then cut out in rounds and lay on a buttered baking pan. Bake 12 to 15 minutes in a brisk oven.

Perfect Popover
Mix together a level cupful of flour, a level teaspoonful of baking powder, a saltspoonful of salt. Mix them, then add two beaten eggs and gradually stir in a cupful of milk. Rub the mixture through a coarse sieve, then half fill hot and well-greased popovers. Bake in a medium oven for 35 minutes. Do not open the oven door until they have formed a firm enough crust to hold them up. Many people eat these dainties with sugar and cream, maple syrup or honey, and some open them and fill them with whipped cream or preserves and use them as a dessert dish.

Gluten Gems
Sift together two level cups of flour, two level teaspoons of baking powder, a saltspoonful of salt; then add a beaten egg and gradually two cups of milk. Beat smoothly, then pour into hot greased gem pans and bake in a brisk oven about 15 minutes. This makes one dozen gems.

Wheat Pufflets
Beat together one egg, two level tablespoons of sugar and a cupful of milk, then add two level cups of flour, two level teaspoons of baking powder and a level teaspoonful of salt. Beat well, then add a tablespoonful each of melted lard and butter, then beat all together for five minutes. Fill hot buttered and lightly floured gem pans half full, and bake for 15 minutes in a hot oven.

Yellow Corn Muffins
Sift together three-quarters of a cupful of yellow cornmeal and one cupful of white flour, three level teaspoons of baking powder and a level teaspoonful of salt. Add after mixing a quarter cupful of molasses.

NEW KATE ADAMS FOR MISSISSIPPI PACKET SERVICE

Memory of First Boat To Be Carried In New Vessel

Memphis, Tenn., April 7.—The memory of Kate Adams, cherished along the Mississippi river from source to mouth for more than half a century, will live again in iron and steel when the historic old steamer is rebuilt and put into active packet service.

Announcement that the fourth Kate Adams would be built was made here by Capt. Hamilton Dukes, vice-president and general manager of the Adams line steamers, who said the contract had already been let for $200,000 to Howard's Ship Yards at Jeffersonville, Ind., and that the work would be completed within three months.

Romantic old days on the Mississippi are recalled with the rebuilding of the Kate Adams, named after the wife of Capt. James Adams, Little Rock, Ark., who founded the famous Adams line steamers more than half a century ago.

Honor For Wife
Typical to all river captains whose river romances ended happily, Capt. Adams wanted to bestow upon his beloved wife the highest honor known to rivermen of his day—build a beautiful steamer to bear her name.

He did and the maiden trip of the beautiful steamer, glimmering in the sunshine with her huge smokestacks belching forth great clouds of black smoke, was the gala event of the year. Thousands of persons gathered along the river banks from St. Louis to New Orleans to see her pass.

In the days that passed the whistle of the Kate Adams won for her a reputation second to none along the river plantations. River packet service in those days serving for both transportation and communication was vitally important.

Plantation negroes along the river set their clocks by the Kate Adams. There were two big events each week with them—the passing of the Kate Adams and the Sabbath.

But ill fate has followed the Kate Adams since the day she was first built. On Christmas Eve, 1887, near Commerce, Miss., the original Kate Adams, pride of her day, was burned. Several persons perished. The fire demon took from the river one of her most historic boats and there was sorrow all along the Mississippi. The hull of the Kate Adams floated to Peter's Landing and sunk.

Captain Grieved
Capt. Adams, grieved over the loss of the river's pride, built a second Kate Adams, more magnificent than the first. She resumed the trade of her first namesake but likewise passed.

The third Kate Adams came along in 1888, starting her maiden trip on Thanksgiving Day. For years the third of a generation of Kate Adams steamers was still the river's finest. Meantime railroads began to span the nation, telegraph and telephones were invented and the river was robbed of the U. S. mail and most of its freight.

In 1927 the Universal Pictures Corporation, Inc., chartered the famous steamer in making their screen version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Several months the Kate Adams was "made" in pictures. In January 1928 the third Kate Adams fell victim to the fire demon. She burned to the water's edge at the Memphis wharf.

NEILL PRAISED BY INSPECTOR IN HOME REPORT

Much Improvement under Present Regime Says State Inspector

As a result of an inspection of the county home by an investigator of the division of charities of the state department of welfare, only minor corrections have been suggested, and the report of the investigation just filed with the county commissioners announces there "has been a remarkable improvement in the management of the institution" under the direction of Supt. John P. Neill.

There are 109 inmates at the county home at this time. The detailed report reads:

Need New Floors
"Provide modern dining room equipment including small group sanitary top tables and chairs to replace stools."

"Replace worn and patched wood floors in dining room of main building and in rooms of inmates at the isolation or jail building with water proof indestructible floor and base of cement composition or terrazzo."

"We recommend removal of all tuberculous and other inmates. We have notified the state board of health in regard to these tubercular cases and they will send a representative to divide with you relative to disposal of these cases."

Praises Superintendent
"There has been a remarkable improvement under Supt. Neill in management, good order, and sanitary condition and we desire to commend the painting of rooms and hallways with attractive cheerful colors and the endeavor to place these very old buildings in a sanitary condition."

"The painting of floors and use of linoleums has done much to make the buildings sanitary and we have rarely seen a building so sanitary, orderly and homelike as the main building."

"The isolation or jail building contains a number of inmates who are unclean in habits and the wood floors in rooms of inmates are so saturated and decayed that they cannot be maintained in a sanitary condition. The dining floor is also in very bad condition."

"We desire to commend careful attention to health of inmates and the kindly social atmosphere which prevails."

OHIO INSANITY LAW IS FARCE, TUTTLE'S VIEW

Professor Says Repeal Is Necessary; Raps Aid to Criminals

Columbus, April 7.—Ohio's insanity law is a farce and should be repealed, Prof. A. H. Tuttle, dean of the college of law at Ohio State university here, declared in an exclusive interview with International News Service.

The law referred to is the amendment, passed at the last session of the Ohio legislature, providing a sanity hearing for an accused person before he comes to trial.

Insanity pleas are merely a guise by proficient criminal lawyers to influence a jury, the dean of law said.

Cites Remus Case
If the state would make the finding of the sanity hearing final, Prof. Tuttle declared, the law in some respects might be better than it now is.

With the sanity law as it now stands, a farce has an easy chance to escape punishment, and a confessed murderer has a loophole whereby he may cheat the electric chair, Professor Tuttle added.

Touching on the George Remus case, the professor said that Remus placed the state in a peculiar predicament. He pointed out that the state at the beginning of the trial in Cincinnati was forced to prove Remus sane in order to prosecute the erstwhile "bootleg king." Then, the dean of law said, after the jury had found Remus not guilty of the murder of his wife on the sole grounds of insanity, the state was forced to prove him insane. Now, he pointed out, the state authorities headed by the attorney general of Ohio are waging a fight to keep Remus in the hospital for the criminally insane.

Professor Tuttle was very emphatic when asked his opinion of the law.

the Patrolman Lewis case—the case where a Columbus policeman shot a brother officer, confessed to the murder, asked for a sanity hearing, was declared sane, and then found not guilty on the grounds of insanity when tried.

Compares California Law
The Lewis case proves, the professor said, that the law is not proficient in itself. He said that insanity pleas such as have been prevalent in the Ohio courts for the last several months, are a disgrace to criminal courts.

Comparing the Ohio sanity law with the California sanity law in the case of William Hickman, the professor said the California law was much better as the sanity hearing is in reality the trial and that when a person asks for a sanity hearing it is an admission of guilt. He said that Hickman was sentenced immediately after he was found sane. In Ohio, he said, the same case could drag out indefinitely.

The dean of law refused to discuss the Velma West proceedings except to say that the state prosecutor might have feared the escape of Velma through a sanity plea and that the prosecutor allowed the "flap-per-widow" to plead guilty to a second degree murder charge, carrying with it a sentence to life imprisonment, rather than take the chance on the subtle insanity law.

Rude to Company, So She Left Hunter And Got a Divorce

Los Angeles, April 7.—Blanche McHaffey, auburn haired screen actress, today won a divorce from George Joseph Hansen, wealthy big game hunter of San Francisco.

The couple separated after a married life of two months and seven days, consisting mostly of a honeymoon trip to New York city.

"He was rude to my guests," Miss McHaffey complained. "Once when guests were present," she testified, he fell asleep. He was very thoughtful of me before our marriage, but he changed afterwards."

"He became effusive on one occasion and shook me like a rat terrier," she added.
